Everything in Readiness to Display Exhibits of City's Activities—Fair Grounds Will Present Brilliant Scene—Many Entries in Baby Health Contest Which Is Attracting Widespread Attention—Exposition Open Afternoons and Evenings Except Sunday.

The Kingston Exposition opens at 6 o'clock tonight at the Fair Grounds and will be open each afternoon thereafter at 1 o'clock and remain open until 10 o'clock each evening except Sunday.

The ornamental front was completed yesterday and tonight will be brightly illuminated with flood lights.

This evening a fine amusement program will be presented. The Pick Sisters, formerly leading ladies in the famous Singing Midgits, will perform. This act will be unique and most interesting.

Fred Van Dusen will do a number of slight of hand performances and magic acts.

Music will be rendered during the entire evening by Malsenholder's orchestra.

Entries are still coming in for the Child Health Contest. Two handsome silver cups have been purchased for the prize winning babies and in addition the Fossenden Shirt Company will give a box of shirts to the father of each prize winner.

It has been decided to hold the Charleston Contest on the closing night of the Exposition on September 11.

Scientists Tell of Arctic Trip

Report of The Findings Made By MacMillan Exploration Trip In Arctic Circle Is Broadcast To Chicago Field Museum.

Tenants Harbor, Me., Sept. 10 (AP).—By word of mouth and in the sputtering language of dots and dashes, the radio early today informed the Field Museum directors in Chicago of the complete success of Lieutenant Commander Donald B. MacMillan's exploration trip into the Arctic circle.

Paul Magee, chief radio operator on the trip began the conversation soon after midnight from Commander MacMillan's little auxiliary schooner Bowdoin, flagship of the expedition, which arrived here yesterday with the Sackem from Sydney, N. S.

Working through stations SCEJ and 9C Magee permitted the scientists of the trips to make the first direct verbal report of their findings to the museum. Later he opened a general broadcast to the Chicago press, inviting the papers to an air interview with the commander and his fellow voyagers. Questions flashed through the ether in code were presented to the explorers for answer.

The Bowdoin and Sackem arrived off the Maine coast a day ahead of time yesterday and put into this port rather than arrive at Christmas Cove a day ahead of the scheduled official reception there. It was planned to sail about noon today on the three hour run to Christmas Cove, where friends and relatives of the voyagers were waiting.

Since sailing north last June the two staunch little schooners have covered 4,000 miles, their path lying along the Labrador and Greenland shores and uncharted coast 300 miles north of the Arctic Circle.

Evidence that ancient villages settled off the Nainia Labrador, long before Columbus sailed to the new world, was found in old legends telling of Norse settlements and among ancient ruins on Sculpin Island. The expedition brought back a rich collection of birds, fish, minerals and botanical specimens.

Specimens collected at Sukkertoppen included articles of clothing worn by Greenland hunters and fishermen and many of their implements. Besides the collection, Commander MacMillan brought back 10,000 feet of film as a pictorial review of his adventure.

The specimens for the Field Museum were collected by professors Hine and Wood of the Museum staff and Professor Martens of Cornell University.

GUARDS AND TROOPS OF GREEK ARMY CLASH
London, Sept. 10 (AP).—Mouths republican guards and troops of the Greek army came into contact yesterday in a battle in which there was sanguinary fighting with numerous casualties on both sides.

The fighting is said to have lasted several hours and to have ended when the two corps of republican guards, realizing the uselessness of their attempt to capture the city, struck the white flag in token of defeat. The officers of the outlaws and their men numbering about 1,000 are said to have surrendered.

The trouble had its origin in the refusal of the Republican guards supporting General Pangalos, who recently was ousted from the dictatorship by General Condylis, to disband.

Mother Slain Defending Child

Isabel Barnes Describes How Her Mother Was Murdered, Attempting to Save Her From Being Attacked By Mechanic.

Muskegon, Mich., Sept. 10 (AP).—A posse was searching the woods near here today for Elmer Woodward, 30, mechanic, who last night is alleged to have clubbed to death Mrs. Cecilia Barnes, 34, when she sought to protect her daughter, Isabel, 15, from an attack.

According to the girl's story to police, Woodward appeared at the Barnes home and declared his own small daughter was dangerously ill and was calling for Isabel. She said she asked permission to take her to his home in a suburb in his car, and Mrs. Barnes decided to accompany them.

After reaching the city outskirts she said Woodward stopped the machine and struck both with an automobile jack, stunning them. As he grappled the girl the dazed mother attempted to intervene and he struck her again, crushing her skull, Isabel said. When an automobile approached, Woodward fled into a wood. The girl was brought here, suffering from a deep gash on the head.

Fined $25 For Abusing Officer

When Deputy Sheriff Anderson V. Ellsworth went to the Irvington, a road house on the Saugerties road, Thursday evening to serve a subpoena on John Gaal, the proprietor, to appear as a witness in a criminal action before the grand jury next week, Gaal not only refused acceptance, locking the door of the place, but used vile and profane language and inferred threats to the deputy in the presence of Mrs. Ellsworth, who was with her husband. Deputy Ellsworth went before Judge Walter Ulster, at Flatbush, in the town of Ulster, and secured a warrant of arrest for Gaal for disorderly conduct and refusing service of the subpoena.

The warrant was served by State Troopers and Gaal was taken before Judge Webber, who found the defendant guilty and imposed a fine of $25 and also gave him a jail sentence of twenty-five days. Gaal paid the fine and the jail sentence was suspended.

Killed Shielding Girl Companions

Chester, Pa., Sept. 10 (AP).—Intensive search was being made today for two men who shot and killed 19-year-old Walter Harden when he attempted to shield two girl companions on a lonely road near Bridgewater last night.

The shooting occurred, the police were told, when two masked Negroes drew up in a touring car beside the automobile in which the girls Harden and William Hamilton were sitting. The Negroes ordered the girls to alight. When Harden attempted to resist the men, he was shot twice through the chest. Hamilton fled to a farmhouse from which he telephoned Chester police.

Anna Klemeszy, 17, and Florence Scott, 14, were dragged from the automobile by the Negroes and attacked, they declared. Both were in hands of physicians today.

Insisted He Was A Traffic Cop

Frank Graham, who said he resided in Marlborough, was arrested Thursday evening by Officer Harner when he insisted on doing traffic duty at Broadway and Railroad avenue while in an intoxicated condition. This morning Judge Shufeldt in police court fined Graham $10 which he paid.

MANUFACTURE OF FIREARMS DECREASE
Washington, Sept. 10 (AP).—Despite what has been heralded as a nation-wide "crime wave," there would seem to be less shooting in the United States now than there was two years ago.

The department of commerce reported today that the manufacture of firearms in 1925 was valued at 11.1 per cent less than that of 1923, while the 1925 production of ammunition and related productions showed a decline of 13 per cent from the 1923 figure.

Coolidge Plans A Week's Rest

Before His Departure for Washington—Orders Executive Office Closed Out of Respect to White House Steward.

Paul Smith's, N. Y., Sept. 10 (AP).—President Coolidge apparently plans to spend the last days of his vacation as he spent the first, crowding as much rest and recreation as possible into the intervals between his visits to the executive offices. No more house guests are expected at White Pine Camp, and the chief executive will have opportunity to pass the week remaining before his departure for Washington in the seclusion which he maintained for a fortnight or more after his arrival in the Adirondacks July 7.

Except for the usual Friday afternoon press conference, Mr. Coolidge had no engagements today and was free to devote himself to a fishing trip with Attorney General Sargent, who is spending a few days at the camp. The two friends had hoped to try their skill against the bass yesterday, but threatening weather spoiled their plans, and Mr. Coolidge drove instead to his home, where he remained while one of the hardest rain storms of the summer swept across the mountains.

James R. Sheffield, ambassador to Mexico, who with Mrs. Sheffield and their son were guests at the Summer White House, have gone to their camp near Saranac Inn, where the ambassador will spend part of his vacation.

President Coolidge ordered the executive offices here and in Washington closed from 2 to 4 o'clock this afternoon as a mark of respect to Major Arthur Brooks, a negro who for years was steward at the White House and valet to four presidents, and whose funeral was set for that time in Washington.

Train Hits Bus, Man Is Killed

Watertown, N. Y., Sept. 10 (AP).—One man was killed and two injured when a large bus of the Colonial Motor Coach Corporation was struck by a New York Central locomotive in the village of Felts Mills, ten miles from this city shortly before 7 this morning. The injured were brought to a local hospital.

The bus was en route from Watertown to Carthage when the accident occurred. A stop had just been made in Felts Mills village where several passengers were taken aboard. The locomotive, drawing only a caboose, was deadheading from Carthage to Watertown.

Several physicians were summoned from this city as well as a large bus of the Colonial Motor Coach Corporation and the injured were brought to a local hospital. The body of the dead, whose identity has not been learned, but whose residence is reported to be Watertown was brought here on another locomotive. The driver of the bus was unharmed.

The crash occurred at what is known as the station crossing where view of the tracks is obstructed by the railroad station. The bus was demolished.

DRIVER ARRESTED AFTER AUTO KILLS AGED MAN

Alexander McClintock, 72 years old, of Rhinebeck, sexton of the Dutch Reformed Church and well known in that village, died early Wednesday evening in the Thompson House Hospital of injuries received about 2 o'clock that afternoon when he was struck by a car driven by L. Lee Krauss of Newark, N. J.

Krauss is held in bail of $2,500 on a charge of assault in the second degree pending the inquest of Coroner John A. Card of Dutchess county.

The autopsy showed that every rib on the left side of McClintock's body was fractured as well as the left shoulder, and pelvis and skull. Krauss, who according to the signs painted on his Buick coupe, is a lecturer, author and motion picture actor, was driving south from Albany and according to his story McClintock walked from the west side of the road into the side of his car.

Lady Astor Tells About Her Sex

Says Democrats Should Nominate a Woman For President—Women Are Still Keeping Men Guessing.

New York, Sept. 10 (AP).—Lady Nancy Astor, Virginia born member of the British Parliament, thinks the Democrats should nominate a woman for president of the United States in 1928.

"I don't believe they will do it," she said in a speech last night before 1,500 members of the League of Women Voters at the Waldorf Astoria, "but it would be amusing if they would."

Lady Astor, introduced as the most distinguished woman in politics in the world, and "one of the most fascinating figures of our time," is convinced that women have made great progress recently in the rapidly changing world of the past few years.

"No longer are women classed for political purposes with criminals, paupers and lunatics," she added. "Women's progress in politics has been made despite male opposition, she thinks, for 'the machine politician doesn't like women. They can't be counted on, they are an unknown quantity, so it would seem that women are still up to their old tricks of keeping men guessing. Well, it is better to keep them guessing than be led blindly by them.'"

Musicians' Strike Is Called Off

Chicago, Sept. 10 (AP).—The strike of 3,000 musicians in 400 Chicago movies theatres was called off early today. An agreement reached after a lengthy session between union officers and exhibitors provided for an increase in pay of $4.50 a week for two years, with an additional increase of $3 a week for the third year.

The settlement, under which the musicians will return to the jobs today, came after four days of negotiations, during which Chicago movie houses and vaudeville theatres showed pictures only at reduced prices. After negotiations had been in progress for several hours last night, agreement had been reached on all but one point, the length of the new contract between the exhibitors and the union. Several more hours were required to settle this point.

Fall Revival In Industry

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 10 (AP).—August marked the beginning of the fall revival in industry. While the gain was small—only a third of workers released in July were back to work—State Industrial Commissioner James A. Hamilton pointed out today that it was larger than a year ago, explaining that nearly all of the state's chief manufacturers shared in the advance.

Although they are running behind last year, textiles improved after extensive closings of July. Employment in women's garments industry also fell off from 1925 figures due to continuation of the strike through August, but a ten per cent gain resulted over July. Food industries were the only group which lost ground in the month.

The index of employment for August was 97, the same as a year ago. For July the figure was 96. Buffalo, Utica, Rochester and Binghamton reported small gains. Syracuse remained almost even with July, and Albany, Schenectady and Troy declined.

TEACHER AND PUPILS FIND SCHOOLHOUSE ABSENT
Pueblo, Colo., Sept. 10 (AP).—The dream of the schoolboy—that on the first day of school he would journey with laughing feet toward "imprisonment" only to find the schoolhouse gone—has been fulfilled for a dozen pupils at Silem school, 39 miles south of here.

The schoolhouse hadn't burned. It had vanished. After an hour of searching a conspicuous teacher found it on the farm of A. J. Price with the following sign attached: "Private property—no trespassing." Price moved the building because of a controversy within the ranks of the school board, of which he is a member.

Sets Record for Channel Swim

Georges Michel, French Swimmer, Set New Record When He Swam The English Channel In 11 Hours and 5 Minutes.

London, Sept. 10 (AP).—The Frenchman, Georges Michel, today swam the English Channel from Cape Gris-Nez in 11 hours and 5 minutes, a new record.

The old record was 12 hours and 43 minutes made by Ernst Vierkotter, a German swimmer, August 30. Previously Gertrude Ederle, the American girl swimmer, went across in 14 hours and 31 minutes. The only other swimmer to conquer the channel this year was Mrs. Millie Gade Corson, of New York, who on August 28, made it in 15 hours and 28 minutes.

All four of the swimmers who have negotiated the grim stretch of water this year started from Cape Gris-Nez, Michel landed in St. Margaret's Bay, midway between Dover and Deal.

When he took the water last evening sea conditions were favorable and there was good swimming virtually all the way to England until the last two miles, when the wind began to stiffen. At the start there was a fast tide under him, and when the flood tide began it carried him along.

Michel this afternoon felt none the worse for his exertions, except for a remaining touch of cramp. During much of the swim he suffered from seasickness and he was unable to take any food while in the water except a few pieces of sugar and some coffee and cognac.

His manager, M. Guillot, and friends who accompanied him aboard the Boulogne fishing boat Maurice, had an anxious quarter of an hour when they lost sight of him in mid-channel during the hours of darkness.

It developed that Michel had suddenly decided to take off the white helmet which he wore when he started in order to make himself more conspicuous in the water. After much shouting, the conveying party finally located him.

About 150 English people gave the plucky Frenchman a warm welcome when he landed. One English girl swam out some distance and accompanied him ashore.

Michel is the ninth person and the seventh man, to swim the channel. Two women have accomplished the feat, Miss Gertrude Ederle and Mrs. Clemington Corson (Millie Gade).

Michel, in addition to breaking the record, also upset all precedents in starting. He left the rocks at Gris-Nez an hour before low tide, instead of four hours before high tide. He believed that in starting thus he could accomplish the feat before him in ten hours.

Georges Michel, who has brought to France the much-coveted honor of a world's record swim across the "sleeve" as the English Channel is known in this country, several times has essayed the task of mastering the channel but failed. Perhaps his best previous swim was on August 1, when he won the "Cross Paris-Matthot" on the river Seine. He made the 26 miles, aided by a strong current in 11 hours and 20 minutes.

The first Frenchman to swim the channel is of Herculean build and is outclassed in size by channel aspirants only by the giant Egyptian Isahak Helmy, who has failed in all his efforts to get from France to the chalk cliffs about Dover. Michel had been trying every year since 1922 to make the trip. On September 4 he was balked by bad weather after being in the water a little more than an hour.

On September 1 Michel issued a challenge to all the channel crossers, but to Mrs. Corson in particular, to meet him on the Seine in a race. "There are forty, sixty or 100 kilometer courses on the Seine, which would satisfy the tastes of the most fastidious," said Michel in his bid. He added that the Seine offered a better test for swimming race than the waters surrounding Manhattan Island, New York.

ADVANCE POLIS IN CANADIAN ELECTIONS
Ottawa, Sept. 10 (AP).—Opening of advance polls today for the Canadian federal elections found Premier Arthur Meighen, Conservative, and former Premier Mackenzie King, Liberal, giving undivided attention to Ontario, which provided 42 of the 245 seats in Parliament.

Both leaders have concentrated there for the past week, the premier advocating protective tariff and a probe into border smuggling while the former premier championed free trade. Official election day is Tuesday, September 14. The advance polls began for convenience of railroad men, commercial travelers and sailors and.

Central West Floods Results In Seven Deaths

Property and Crop Damage in the Millions—Industry Paralyzed in Many Localities—Fear Swollen Streams.

Chicago, Sept. 10 (AP).—The central west counted seven deaths and guessed at millions in property and crop loss today in the flooded wake of the third visitation within ten days by storms of equinoctial fury.

Industry and agriculture were at a standstill in many localities, paralyzed by floods which swept fields and factories alike.

In central Indiana and Illinois the torrential rain and lightning were more damaging in their effect than last week's storms, from which a broad area from Ohio to Nebraska was only beginning to recover before the fresh onslaught.

Clearing skies and forecast of warmer weather promised relief today and strengthened hopes that the peak of these downpours had been reached Wednesday night. Although the weather bureau hinted a return of unsettled conditions tomorrow.

The fear today was of swollen streams, freshened by torrents draining inundated territory miles from the principal outlets.

At Terre Haute, Indiana, conditions were the most serious since the disastrous flood of 1913, the 7.35 inches of rain at Mattoon, Ill., was the heaviest fall since 1907, and Jacksonville, Ill., recorded eight inches of rain for the first flood in its history.

Throughout center Illinois hundreds of automobile tourists were marooned, cut off by submerged highways or weakened bridges. Railroad service was impaired by washed out tracks and bridges, and in some sections was not attempted.

Near Terre Haute 25 coal mines were temporarily abandoned and a number of industrial plants in the city were idle. Some houses were partly under water. One freak of the storm was the washing away of ground at the foot of a highway at Lake Braehen, near Galesburg, Ill., dislodging a five foot vein of coal clay.

Three of the four storm deaths in Illinois were from electrocution. The other and those of a Missouri farmer and his two small children were drownings.

15 ASPIRANTS REMAIN IN BEAUTY CONTEST
Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 10 (AP).—Fifteen beauties remained today of 73 competitors for the 1926 title of "Miss America" and these faced reduction to five in the afternoon and to the winner tonight.

There were three favorites, being the winners in an evening gown contest last night. Miss Tula Oklahoma, (Norma Smallwood) took first place, Miss Greater New York, (Ruth K. Patterson) second, and Miss Washington, (Majorie Jostling) third.

They were given cups by Miss America of 1925 (Fay Lanphier) and Boardwalk gossip promptly displaced a former favorite, Miss Denver, to hold them as chief contenders for the title. Miss Tula wore a delft blue gown of velvet, and the other two white satin trimmed with rhinestones.

The other 12 who were in the race today were Misses Bridgeport, Yonkers, Newark, Orange, N. J., Philadelphia, Denver, Seattle, Lansing, Kansas City, St. Louis, Dallas, and Norfolk.

OLD VIRGINIAN BONDS TURN UP

Long Thought Worthless
But Recently Presented
and Paid.

Richmond, Va.—The Virginia-West Virginia treasure chest of $500,000 divided recently when H. B. Churnside, court clerk of Charlotte county, Va., presented for payment at the office of Rosewell Page, second auditor of Virginia, certificates known as "Virginia deferred certificates" or "West Virginia certificates" amounting in present value in principal and interest to $86,000.

Mr. Churnside represents the British heirs of Charles and Alfred Morrison. His own aunt, Mabel Churnside, married Alfred Morrison. Among those who will share in the money are the children of Alfred Morrison. One of these is Hugh Morrison, member of parliament, and another is Maj. Archibald Morrison. There are two daughters—Viscountess St. Cyres and Lady Stephen Gattling.

Under the arrangement made in the Virginia-West Virginia debt settlement, ordered by the Supreme court of the United States, Mr. Page, as auditor, forwarded the certificates to West Virginia for payment by that state.

Search Started by News Report.

A newspaper reporter digging into the archives of the commonwealth of Virginia a few months ago discovered that more than half a million dollars of the West Virginia certificates had not been presented for redemption. He found that among those not presented were certificates having a face value of $70,000 listed in the names of Charles and Alfred Morrison of London. He wrote a story which began, "Who can explain the mystery of the missing Morrison certificates?" Mr. Churnside, in his home in Charlotte county, Va., read the story and at once communicated with his relatives in England.

West Virginia authorities have ruled that no matter how complete may be a title to a certificate the certificate itself must be presented before payment will be made. Therefore the Morrison heirs conducted a systematic search. Old trunks were ransacked and yellowed documents scanned. Finally the certificates were found in the safety box of one of the solicitors for the Morrison estate. The papers had been considered of little or no value, for England had heard that the southern states had repudiated their old public debt.

Charles Morrison lived in London, an unknown millionaire. When he died on May 25, 1908, even London gasped when it found that his estate was appraised at $75,000,000, of which $55,000,000 was in personal property alone. He had large realty holdings in London, Berks, Island of Islay and in Middlesex county. His brother, Alfred, died in 1897. Charles never married.

Once sold at One-Tenth Value.

In 1871 Virginia, broke and poor because of the Civil war, began to try to solve the problem of paying off nearly $40,000,000 in bonds that had been issued before the war. The commonwealth took the position that West Virginia, which as part of Virginia at the time had benefited from these bonds should pay one-third of the indebtedness. Virginia issued refunding bonds for two-thirds of the amount due and certificates for West Virginia's part. West Virginia declined to acknowledge these certificates and they were considered of such little value that they sold for ten cents on the dollar.

Finally, to protect her credit, Virginia, for the benefit of holders of the certificates, sued West Virginia, and in 1915 won the suit in the Supreme court of the United States. Pursuant to the decree of the tribunal, West Virginia agreed to pay these certificates. More than $400,000 of them are still outstanding, and many of these may yet be found. Nearly all of those which have not been presented for payment are listed in the names of people who resided in the United States.

Boris of Bulgaria Has Many Hobbies

Sofia.—King Boris of Bulgaria is the only reigning monarch who has neither a crown nor a throne-chair nor courtiers. But he does have plenty of hobbies.

Seven of them in fact—automobiles, tractors, locomotives, hunting, flowers, butterflies and elephants.

His elephants, of which he has two at his country place in Vrania, are Indian and are legacies from his father.

Although the food they consume makes a big dent in the $2,500 yearly allowance the king receives from the state, he says he likes to keep the elephants to carry timber from the forests and to do circus tricks.

His majesty's favorite hobby is automobiles. He is an expert driver and is known throughout the countryside for his daring and high speed. He has acquired two American machines, which please him much.

"I have covered more than 2,500 miles in eight weeks, and, as you know, the roads in Bulgaria are not at all good," he said.

The king joked about his mechanical hobbies and said if he ever lost his job as king he could make a living as a chauffeur or as an engine driver.

Spiders Bred for Webs

The large hairy spiders known as tarantulas are bred in Australia for the sake of their webs, the filaments of which are made into thread for balloons. Each tarantula yields from twenty to forty yards of filament, of which eight pieces twisted together form a single thread of sufficient strength and durability, and it is lighter than silk.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR LOCUSTS DUE TO COME IN 1937

All Sections Are Asked to Notify the Association if Any Are Seen This Year.

Washington.—The question now before the scientific world is: Will the 17-year locusts appear on time? The scientific world is going to try to find out, for an investigation by the bureau of entomology is going to investigate the belief whether the 17-year locusts, scheduled to make their appearance this summer in Virginia, Georgia, Iowa and Missouri, has any existence in fact. Entomologists in these states have been asked to keep a sharp lookout for the insects and to report to Washington when and where they are discovered.

The 17-year locusts live underground all that time and then come out by millions. If you see this periodical cicada, let the American Nature Association of Washington, D. C., know at once. The cicada is a forest insect and a very large part of its life is as an underground grublike form feeding upon the roots of forest trees. Toward the end of the period the full-grown grubs make their way to near the surface of the ground and under certain conditions construct peculiar above-ground chambers of pellets of soil. The large stout black insect is about 1 1/2 inches long, and has a wingspread of nearly 3 inches, the veins of the forewings and the eyes being red.

It is stated that in 1927 large numbers of 17-year locusts will emerge in certain sections of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois and Kansas.

This is based upon records back to 1724, and it is said the locusts which will suddenly come out by the thousands and literally cover the bark of trees and fill the air with their persistent chatter next year are the direct descendants of the first brood of locusts ever recorded in this country.

There are some 17-year locusts coming out somewhere in this country nearly every year, but those coming out one year belong to different broods from those coming out the next.

Builds 22-Foot Dory for Fourth Globe Trip

Plainfield, N. J.—His fourth cruise around the world, this time in a 22-foot dory, is being planned for next year by Oscar Bowdoin, a carpenter, who has passed the greater part of his life on ships. Bowdoin will build his own boat and plans to follow a course south to Cape Horn, up to Alaska, down the coast of Asia to the Indian ocean, through the south seas to the east coast of Africa and around the Cape of Good Hope to South America and back.

Bowdoin is a native of Hampton, Maine, and when a young man was engaged in the whaling trade. Prior to the Spanish-American war he shipped on Howard Gould's yacht Niagara as a carpenter and in 1898 visited Manila harbor on a government repair ship just after the battle of Manila. On another occasion he made a 1,000-mile trip up the Amazon river.

The next trip is to cover four years. The boat will be equipped with a 30-horsepower engine, sail and spinnaker and will have a cabin 12 feet long and 6 feet wide. Bowdoin plans to take a man companion, to be chosen later.

King Is Arrested for

Speeding on Bicycle

Brussels, Belgium.—King Albert, by strict adherence to his own decrees as financial dictator, is giving forceful example to his subjects in the matter of economy. Black bread now is exclusively served at the royal table, and none of the king's three motor cars has been seen on the streets since the economy campaign began.

Two guardsmen spotted a lone motorcyclist racing toward Brussels from Leoben the other day and halted the speeder, demanding his papers. When they read the driver's permit they nearly fainted, as it was made out to "Albert of Belgium."

The king shook hands with the guardsmen and reassured them by saying: "You did right; it is your duty—but I am a little late for work," and he sped away.

Dooms All Shrines Where

Animals Are Worshipped

Tokyo.—The shrine bureau of the home department has ordered the destruction of thousands of small shrines throughout Japan dedicated to the primitive superstitions worship of fens, snakes and other animals.

These small shrines come down from times when animal worship and various forms of nature worship were part of the lives of the simple country people, and are deemed now on the ground that they are antagonistic to the progress of the nation.

Little opposition to the move is expected, because with the spread of education the more primitive forms of worship are dying out.

Robbing "Banker's"

Vernon.—Officials of the Juvenile club of Whitehead, comprising 2,000 members, have given notice to the state members of the organization that better half will no longer be tolerated. They declare that better half is "banker's" and "un-American." Those not members who have clipped their hair will be given a year in which to allow it to grow.

New Style

In the old-fashioned novels the hero used to turn pale and take his life when he was captured. In current magazine fiction he turns red and bawls the hero's type.—Don Marquette in Collier's Magazine.

AND one was but one of hundreds who have done the same—told secrets she would not tell her mother—perhaps her husband—but in the confessional of the Judge's chambers she revealed all. Her story and the stories of scores of others—men as well as women—are now being retold for society's good by Judge Ben B. Lindsey in the most candid and startling series of articles ever published in any magazine. Reasoning from the stories of real life told him in court day after day, Judge Lindsey has reached certain conclusions, and now he boldly asks: "Is

Mrs. Philip Lydig Reveals Secrets of New York Society

ALMOST since girlhood, beautiful Mrs. Philip Lydig has been an unquestioned leader of New York's ultra-smart society. Now for the first time Mrs. Lydig proceeds to turn the spotlight on that society—telling in great detail why she finds it futile, false and corrupt. The statements she makes will astonish you—story after story of tragedies heretofore never publicly disclosed. If chronicles of the real lives of the prominently fashionable—heretofore known only to those on the inside of that group—are of interest to you, then you must read Mrs. Lydig's revealing article, "Marriage Without Love." In these two remarkable series—the one by Mrs.

Lydig, the other by Judge Lindsey—The Red Book Magazine for October inaugurates its new plan of adding the drama of Fact to the drama of Fiction—which latter is expressed by Rupert Hughes in his splendid novel, "We Live But Once," and by these other distinguished novelists and story-writers: Ruth Comfort Mitchell, James Francis Dwyer, Struthers Burt, Samuel Merwin, Leroy Scott, Thyma Samson Winslow, Robert Benchley, Wm. H. Osborne, Arthur K. Akers and Michael J. Phillips.

Mrs. Philip Lydig—the first wife of the late W. E. D. Lydig, a New York social leader for years, and descended through her mother from the family of the Duke of Athol.

Orphans Enjoy K. of C. Outing

Mothers and Children of Sacred Heart Orphanage Enjoyed Outing Thursday, Given by Local Knights of Columbus.

If there was any doubt in the minds of the members of the Knights of Columbus, whether the children of the Sacred Heart Orphanage at West Park enjoyed the outing Thursday, it was readily dispelled when the children presented an entertainment in appreciation of the merry time afforded them. Great credit was reflected upon the sisters in charge, as the singing, dancing and recitations by the children surpassed all expectations.

At the close of the program at Forsyth Park preceding the homeward journey a set of resolutions was read expressing the deep appreciation of the sisters and children for the joyous event. John P. Erna responded, thanking the members of the Catholic Daughters of America and friends, who assisted in making the occasion so successful.

Although the day was dreary it failed to abate the spirits of the orphans who made merry all the day long. The rain held off until the program was completed, the trip back to the orphanage being started when the rain began to fall.

Following the ride around the Ashokan Reservoir, the caravan of automobiles stopped at Forsyth Park where a delicious chicken dinner, with all the "fixins" was served. The children also enjoyed the fine playground afforded at the park.

The sisters and children who were made happy on this annual event given by the local Knights numbered two hundred.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT REDUCES ITS ARMY.

Paris, Sept. 10 (AP).—The French Government's economy are topped off some more administrative jobs today and then took a big whack in the army.

A ministerial council, meeting at the Elysee Palace with twenty members, decided to reduce the number of army officers by 2,000; to cut the number of cadres (skeleton regiments) from 25,000 the 1914 figure to 22,000 and immediately to reduce the cavalry ranks by 10,000 horses and ultimately by 10,000 men creating the 2,000 generalists needed.

Other military economies decided upon include a gradual return to the conscription of youths only upon reaching the age of 21, and reduction of the service period in twelve months of enlisted men, thus cutting the number of men under the colors.

Black Silk Taffeta Is Dainty for Debutante

This evening dress for the debutante is of black silk taffeta with a tight bodice and full skirt with scalloped bottom faced with rose silk. Its beauty is also further enhanced by the addition of hand embroidered flowers of blue and green with silver leather centers.

White Kid Gloves Are Smart for Fall Season

White kid gloves are predicted as the smart thing for the season. The one-clasp model is preferred, especially when it combines a touch of color both on cuff and in stitching. One new version of these gloves is seen in a pair with channel red stitching on the back and a triple row of the same color on the turned-back cuff.

Other gloves in line kid have fancy cuffs of imitation snakeskin, hand-embroidered motifs and appliqued designs. In black, tan and mode there is a glove with a turn-over cuff having a slave bracelet attached. This makes a very attractive and useful gift for the young schoolgirl. To carry out the cuff idea in detail there are some with links which hold the open ends of the cuff in place. Some of the cuffs on other models are finished off with enamel plaques, gold and silver plated monograms and flat pins.

To be worn with black kidskin shoes and, perhaps, gun metal stockings, there are gloves of black kid with cuffs of snakeskin stitched in two tones of gray to blend with the cuff. Brown and light tan are combined in this cuff idea. Straps about an inch wide and the one-clasp models are seen in gloves for dress wear.

Fabric gloves in light gray and beige are being shown for fall with shirred cuffs or the plain double turn-over affairs. These gloves are imported from France and show fine workmanship in the embroidery used on the cuffs and backs. Embroidered silk motifs are applied on both the shirred and plain cuffs and lend a little more importance to the gloves. Tiny colored motifs in bright colors are also applied on the turnover cuffs.

Shade gloves in slip-on style are being offered in bean, almond, nude and light beige, in fact all the stocking shades. These gloves are easily washed and hold their shape. They are, however, rinsed in clear water before being allowed to dry.

Box Plaits Noted in Dainty Formal Frocks

Box plaits are noted with enough frequency to be remarked in dinner frocks. A sheer blue frock strikes an unusual note through the tapering treatment of the plaits. Box plaits of wider proportions are seen in a dinner frock of bold rose chiffon, embroidered with spheres in silver neutral thread. Scarfs tying at the shoulder are features of soft frocks.

The bloused silhouette is recognized, sometimes in conjunction with a belted line, the blouse often appearing at the back only, and the draped movement is also important, the drapes placed sometimes at the side and again at the front, an instance of the latter remarked in a plaid velvet daytime frock, which had the added feature of a ruffled shawl collar.

Fabrics generally indorsed are ruche, mixtures, cashmere, crepe satin, velvet, sheer silks and metal brocades. Suggesting tailored lines, a dinner frock developed in a small patterned metal brocade, strikes an unusual note.

Fine tucks and plaits, sometimes appearing in the same frock, are good style notes, an interesting example being reflected in a frock entirely plucked with wide trim in plaid formation.

New Sports Costumes

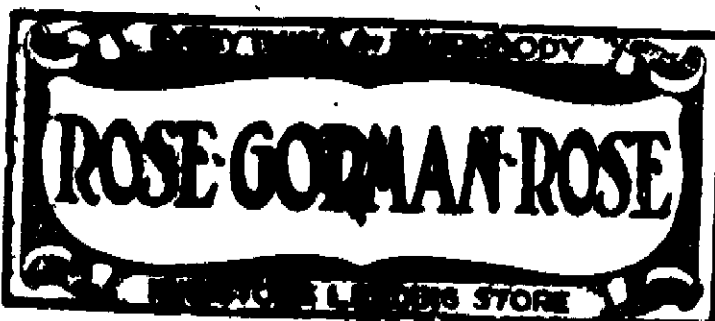

The jumper of jersey in the various colored stripes is exceedingly smart. It is worn with a skirt of crepe de chine which is matched by the handkerchief scarf which takes the place of a collar.

Seek Families of 3 War Heroes

Last of Three Distinguished Service Crosses Awarded for Gallantry During World War May Reach Families of Dead Soldiers Entitled to Receive Them.

Through efforts of Colonel James T. Dean, U. S. Army recruiting officer at 55 Whitehall street, New York city, three coveted bits of purple, with bright ribbons of red, white, and blue attached, may at last be presented to relatives of three heroic American soldiers who died on the battlefields of France while unflinchingly carrying out exploits "beyond the call of duty."

The three bronze decorations are the last to remain unclaimed of the distinguished Service Crosses awarded for gallantry under fire during the World War. For eight years the War Department has sought information which would enable it to deliver the awards to relatives of the dead soldiers entitled to receive them.

Colonel Dean and other members of the local recruiting force, accepting it as a debt of honor due their departed buddies, will join the Army Recruiting Service of the entire country in a nation-wide quest for the missing relatives, beginning today. Besides the metropolitan section and Long Island, Colonel Dean's district extends over the counties of Westchester, Rockland, Putnam, Orange, Dutchess, Ulster, and Sullivan.

In the systematic search that will be carried into every section of the United States by soldiers of the Army Recruiting Service, the newspapers, radio, Boy Scout troops, C. M. T. C. Boys' Clubs, veterans organizations, and missing persons bureaus of police departments will be utilized to supplement the personal canvassing of the soldiers.

The three heroes posthumously awarded the D. S. C. were: Edward G. Mason, of Detroit, Mich., serving in Co. "D", 55th Infantry, 7th Division; Sergeant Carl C. Carter, of Fresno, Cal., serving in Co. "A", 7th Infantry, 3rd Division, and Private Frank Arkham, of Bellingham, Minn., serving in Co. "I", 205th Infantry, 7th Division.

News of the Day In Wall Street

New York, Sept. 10 (AP).—An advance of $2 a ton in quotations for full finished automobile sheets is reported from the Youngstown district, the second increase in two weeks.

Progress in the reorganization of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway is understood in Wall street to have reached a point where important developments may be announced soon. The brief of the reorganization managers being prepared in answer to that of the bondholders defense committee is said to be near completion.

A ruling of the New York Stock Exchange that General Motors common stock shall sell fifty per cent stock dividend on Monday will end arbitrage transactions in which some traders have been seeking profit through purchases on the stock exchange and sales of "when issued" contracts on the Curb market.

Activity in iron in the Youngstown district for fourth quarter delivery has expanded, sales in a nearby locality the last week amounting to 20,000 tons. Prices vary from $17.50 to $18 a ton for number 2 foundry and basic. Books are being opened for fourth quarter business in merchant steel bars and plates; makers accepting September tonnage at $1.30 per 100 pounds, but seek two cents a pound for bars.

800 YOUNG JUDEAN CLUBS RESUME ACTIVITIES

Eight hundred Young Judean clubs, with a combined membership of over 15,000 Jewish boys and girls will resume their activities in every part of the country during the early part of September after a summer of rest and play. The opening meeting of every club will be devoted to a celebration of the Jewish New Year.

The high-lights of the year's program include discussions of Palestine problems, Hebrew study classes, educational literary programs, mass celebrations of Jewish festivals, athletic tournaments, a national oratorical contest, and practical cooperation with Zionist projects. A total sum of $25,000 will be expended during the coming year by Young Judea in the interests of the Jewish adolescent.

A report issued by Nathan Straus, chairman of the board of trustees of National Young Judea, 114 Fifth Avenue, New York, reviewing the work of the organization in the seventeen years of its existence, shows that over 500,000 pieces of literature, exclusive of the monthly magazine, "The Young Judean," have been supplied to Jewish boys and girls; that there was an average 350,000 admissions per year to Young Judean functions; that 900 interpretations of Jewish customs, each used on an average of 70 times, were issued and that over 60,000 Jewish boys and girls have been members of Young Judean clubs in 161 cities and thirty-eight states, with 1,500 club leaders serving them successfully.

Almost 500 at High School. The Annual Association of Kingston High School will hold a dance in the high school gym this evening. The music will be furnished by Tony Turk and his Rhythmic of Rhythmic Orchestra. The dance will begin at 8 o'clock and continue until 12 p. m.

WAIL OF BLUE GNU

"It's a long time since I have spoken," said the Blue GNU.
 "The Blue GNU is my name, and though I am sometimes called the Brindled GNU, I like the name of Blue GNU better."
 "It is shorter, it has more sense, that is, to me, it has."
 "And it describes the way I feel."
 "For I feel blue, I have always felt blue and I always will feel blue."
 "I have no special object in living; I have no special object in not living."
 "I have no special object in anything."
 "I don't care for other creatures; I don't care for the keeper."
 "The visitors who come to the zoo seem very absurd to me."
 "They say that they think animals are so interesting."
 "Now, what is interesting about me, I'd like to know?"
 "Nothing at all. I can answer that question."
 "And so I say I am blue, blue because I have nothing to think about."

"I Don't Care for Other Creatures," and nothing which interests me, and nothing to care about."
 "And to feel blue means that one feels sad and mournful and depressed."
 "I'm a queer looking creature. I'm as odd as odd can be."

"I don't object to the zoo; no, I take very kindly to the life of captivity."

"That isn't why I am blue."
 "No, it is because I think everything is very stupid and without reason."

"There seems to be no reason in the rain or in the sunshine."
 "One is wet and the other dry and hot—that is all."

"And there is no reason in the sky and none in the earth—at least, very little."

"For the sky is so far away that we can't have anything to do with it, nor can we make use of it, and the earth is so near that we're so used to it we think nothing of it."

"Oh, life is very senseless, very. That is, to a Blue GNU."

And the Blue GNU looked about, his ugly face and his two upturned horns making him look extremely strange and almost unreal."

His white mane and touches of white around his mouth also seemed queer, but he soon went to sleep, for he didn't think it was worth while to stay awake!"

More Comfortable

One day Carrie, aged six, was doing some trifling thing that her mother thought she should not.
 "Why, Carrie!" she exclaimed, "how could you do that?"
 "Other little girls do so," replied Carrie.

"But that doesn't make it right, does it?"
 "No," answered Carrie, slowly, "but it makes it a good deal more comfortable."

Good Time to Stay Away

In rough and stormy weather, Ethel, who lived near the lake, was not allowed on the beach. One day her little cousin, Albert, came to see her and Ethel, after showing him proudly over the house, took him to the beach, explaining its mysteries, and adding admiringly: "Ah, Albert, you must never go on the beach when it's getting its face washed."

Not a Baby Any More

Little Mary had always been called "baby" by her aunts and uncles. She got a baby brother not so long ago. When her uncle called one day and greeted her with "Hello, baby," she looked at him and frowned.
 "Don't call me baby, Uncle Pete, 'cause we got a real baby now."

Awful Lot of Mamma

Katherine, aged four, was sitting on the front porch with her father when an extremely large lady and small child passed by.
 Little Katherine exclaimed, "Oh, daddy, hasn't that little girl an awful lot of mamma?"

Never on a Horse

"Can you ride a horse, Judy?" inquired Betty Ann.
 "I don't," returned Judy thoughtfully. "I was never on one 'cept when there was seven other kids on it."

Play and Works

What is it that works when it plays and plays when it works?
 A fountain.

Attitude in Arizona

Arizona has a wider range of attitudes than any other western state. The highest point is San Francisco peak, 12,811 feet above the sea level, and the lowest is on the Colorado river, where the elevation is but 100 feet.

OFFICE CAT

By J. H. M. J.

Usually when a young man isn't satisfied with the work he's doing his boss isn't either.

Yet 98 per cent of those who went broke in Florida would have been suckers at home.

When a girl loses her powder puff at the beginning of an evening her escort might just as well take her right home. She can't be happy. It's terrible.

"Were you ever in a railroad disaster?"
 "I'll say I was! Once I kissed the wrong girl going through a tunnel."

Only a bachelor is permitted to roll over and go to sleep again when a pan or something falls from a shelf in the pantry and makes a noise like burglars.

"May I press your hair?" said he.
 And she nodded her sweet permission.So they went to prom And I rather regret—

A hero is a man who talks about his reputation instead of letting you talk about your own.

She: Oh, boy. Notes to that.

jazz orchestra is there!
 Mike: You suit! That isn't an orchestra. We're just passing a boiler factory.

The only part of a woman that should be broad is her mind.

She was just a sailor's sweetheart, but she knew her ropes.

"Doesn't she wear becoming dresses?"
 "Yeah, becoming shorter and shorter."

Be careful what you preach so that you will be able to practice it if the occasion arises.

It's easy enough to be pleasant. When life flows 'round and 'round. But the man worth while. Is the man who can smile. With his gutters coming down.

 Second Partner: Sure; where is she?

The question often arises, do we elect public officials to work or to talk?

The Hotel Stenographer

9 Rue Fulkerson

"I GOT me a radio outfit," announced the House Detective, "and last night I..."

"You got KCB or something," interrupted the Hotel Stenographer. "Don't tell me about it, Kelly. It's bad enough to be a radio fan, but when you wave your fan you become a nuisance."

"Adam was the first radio fan. He took a spare part and made a loud speaker out of it, thus eliminating the need for a radio in his home. Radio wanted in popularity thereafter and is just coming back."

"No woman likes radio. Why should she? Every woman likes to do the broadcasting for her own home. All day long she is by herself poking into closet corners with her broom while the children are at school and the old man is on the job. She has to wash dishes and clean, scrub and, laundry all by herself, because she has nobody to talk to except the baby."

"When night comes she certainly ought to be allowed to say all the things she has thought out all during the time she has been alone in the house."

"Kelly, the reason your wife gets the best of every domestic argument is because she figured her side all during the day. She knows just what you will say and what she will reply, and if you do not say it, she has a reply already arranged for whatever you do say. All day long she mutters and plans over the argument until she has it all worked out."

"Then you come home at night and buckle a couple of radio phones on your bean and leave her with an unargued argument in her system; no wonder she is sore. But I am not like that. I am always willing for other people to have their say. What were you about to say about your radio?"

"I was going to say it was just like listening to you," answered Kelly. "It chatters and I couldn't make any sense out of it."

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Bahia, Brazil—Because he regards New York and Paris styles worn by actresses as at variance with morals, the archbishop of Bahia, in a pastoral letter, has counselled his flock not to attend a certain show.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—If the present trend of styles continues, the Rev. James Cox of Old St. Patrick's Church expects that by 1935 the Atlantic City beauty pageant will be staged in the nude in the name of art.

Angeles, Paraguay—Society women have formed the league of social action to combat exaggerations in dress.

New York—Lady Astor lacks sufficient intelligence to bob her hair. She says so herself, but she takes off her hat to those who have. Also she may be amazed at short hair and short skirts, "but surely they are far healthier than long skirts and paper curls and other paraphernalia we women have had to put up with for years."

Moscow—A woman in trousers is to command a Trans-Atlantic steamer. Captain Marie Malagino has already served as able seaman, pilot and second officer on the Black Sea. Mme. Alexandrakollantay, who has radical views on matrimony, is to be minister to Mexico.

New York—Son is bossing father in teaching rowing at Columbia. Richard J. Glendon is coach; his father, Richard A., is assistant. They have signed up for two years more.

Orange, N. J.—The boss of all the Edison Industries now is Charles Edison, 37. While he is running the works, his father, the famous Thomas A., will be spending 16 hours a day in his laboratories inventing some more. Chairman of the board for several years, Charles recently became president. He and dad swapped administrative jobs.

New York—Like mother, like daughter, Mrs. Ethel Harriman Potter has written a book, "Romantic—I Call It." Mrs. J. Borden Harriman published a book on New York and Washington society.

Lava-Coated Trees in Hawaiian Forest

On the slopes of a volcanic mountain there is a perfect forest of lava trees, which is believed to have been formed many centuries ago. The trees which form this forest are amazingly lifelike, even the grain of bark being represented, yet they are nothing but shells of lava. The way in which this strange forest was formed is interesting. The original trees were of a kind known locally as 'olika, a species abundant in the Hawaiian Islands. During a terrific outburst on the part of the volcano, when the lava poured out in a vast cataract, 40 or 50 feet deep, the whole of a thickly wooded region was overwhelmed. The fluid point of lava is at 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit, but it instantly solidifies at a point a few degrees below this high figure. . . . When the trees were buried in the stream of liquid fire, the lava which came into touch with the trunks and branches immediately solidified, owing to the contact with the cold bark. The main flow of the molten stream swept on, leaving each tree with only a thin coating. This was sufficient to set the wood burning, and, in course of time, all the branches and the trunk of the tree were consumed, leaving nothing but the lava mold.

Small Fortune Paid for Gutenberg Bible

Recently at Vienna, an American dealer paid $220,585 for a copy of the Gutenberg Bible. It belonged to an abbey in Austria, and the owners had to get official leave from the Austrian government before they could sell their treasure. They obtained by far the biggest price ever paid for a book.

Yet a still higher price is on record as having been once offered. In the Seventeenth century the monks of St. Emmeran possessed a notable manuscript of the Gospels, which had been presented to their abbey by the Emperor Henry IV.

The elector of Bavaria admired it so much that he proposed to give these monks the town of Strambingen in exchange.

But they were prudent men. They knew the elector could, and they suspected that he would, retake the town whenever he pleased, so they declined his offer and kept their precious manuscript.

The Bible which the dealer bought is a magnificent copy on vellum of the first book ever printed in Europe from metal types.

Moving Pictures Long Ago

Moving pictures are not so very new. The English diarist, Ralph Thoresby, writing as long ago as 1678, says: "I called to see the moving pictures, a curious piece of art; the landscape looks as an ordinary picture till the clockwork behind the curtain be set at work, and then the shape moves and out distinctly upon the sea till out of sight; a coach comes out of the booth; the motions of the horses and wheels are very distinct, and a gentleman in the coach relieves the company; also a hunter and his dogs keep their course until out of sight."

Reason for Optimism

E. M. Hopkins: "One of the most recent arguments for optimism is the record to which a situation may be redeemed by the presence of a few 'optimistic men.'"

Ourselves and Industry

You Can't Have Your Cake and Eat It, Too

By E. E. Lincoln

Throughout the world we are known as a nation of wasters and careless spenders. Our natural resources have been not merely consumed but frequently destroyed in a manner which shocks the average European.

No sooner have we made up our minds to budget our expenses, save and provide for the future, than some high-pressure salesman comes along and tells us that if we will buy an article now, which can be paid for by monthly installments over the next year, we will be putting the budgeting principle into effect in a very practical way and will be learning the essentials of saving. Even more surprising to note, have recently tried to defend the practice of paying for this year's luxuries out of next year's prospective income.

Many of those who worship the god of Volume in business have even tried to pervert the science of economics to their own ends in order to prove that living beyond one's income will reduce costs of production, create more wealth and raise the standard of living for each of us. It has sometimes been erroneously claimed that if we increase our consumption this year by drawing on future income, we will thereby create more work and more permanent business for everyone.

What are the facts? We are not here discussing the problem of financing "producers' goods," such as railroads, office buildings, light and power stations, by means of borrowing. Such projects pay their way out of annual earnings and, if properly managed, increase the general well being.

On the other hand, if we borrow or pledge our future income in order to buy those commodities which we use only for ourselves and which yield no money income, we begin to be on dangerous ground. There is frequently ample justification for buying "durable consumers' goods," such as a house, long before we have accumulated enough money to pay the entire cost.

However, if we try to buy such things as automobiles, phonographs, furniture and clothing by small down payments and the balance to be paid over a series of months, we are spending the income which we hope to have for goods which perish as rapidly as we use them.—Western Electric News

Odd Events In
Empire State

(By The Associated Press.)

Seventy-three summers mean nothing to Mrs. Thomas Parks of St. Regis Falls when it comes to mountain climbing. Recently Mrs. Parks decided to visit her son, who is state fire observer on top of Blue Mountain, in the northern Adirondacks. Despite her age, she made the trip without aid, in the face of traditional dislike of even younger persons for the mountain because of its precipitous trails.

A full grown bald eagle of considerable size has been seen on several occasions this summer by residents of central Essex county. The birds are now rarely seen in the mountain sections, although in pioneer days, before the section became popular for summer resort purposes, they were often visible.

Thirty grandchildren and eight grandchildren recently attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Debuque of Clinton county. An unusual feature of the gathering was the attendance of four old friends who were present at the wedding a half century ago.

The cellar of an abandoned house on Mount Hope in Essex county has yielded an old-time political campaign medal. Thomas Longner, digging in the ruins of the dwelling, found what he believed to be a coin, but on closer inspection ascertained that on one side it bore the inscription "For President—1864" and on the other "For Vice-President—1864." The pictures of both candidates were obliterated, due to the softer metal in the center of the medal having been eaten by dampness.

North Country folk pride themselves on their kindness to those in need, and as an illustration they tell this story:

William Toland of the Franklin county hamlet of Sun recently lay sick and helpless in a hospital. He worried about his hay crop and the lack of help back on his farm to harvest it.

Neighbors learned of his predicament, and they immediately organized an old-fashioned Adirondack bee at which friends gathered from all the section about the Toland farm. Dusk of that day found the hay all cut, and carefully stored, to the great delight of the helpless farmer.

Residents of Fort Jackson, near Saranac Lake, have been much interested for the past few weeks in a vegetable freak which grew in the garden of Mrs. Weller of that village. It is a cucumber 22 inches long and but two inches thick.

LIVE BUSINESS MEN ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN.

Gibbons Proves Retirement By His Inactivity

Famous pugilist, Garnered Fortune and Made Sound Investments Which Insure Comfort in His Old Age—His Best Purse $62,000.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 10 (AP).—Toppled from the pugilistic heights at the zenith of his purse winning power, Tommy Gibbons has confirmed his retirement from the prize ring by more than a year of inactivity.

In the more prosaic capacity of "one of St. Paul's promising young business men", only with most of the promise fulfilled, Tommy is leading a life quite unlike that of the average "retired" fighter.

Financially Independent.

Retirement to the average pugilist invariably is forced, and once a ring cast-off, he must turn to some other pursuit to make a living. For the average prize fighter has little to do with thrift campaigns. Not so with Tommy Gibbons.

He emulated his older brother, once the renowned "Phantom" Mike Gibbons, and when his ring purse grew fat, most of his end went, figuratively, into the family sock.

Only a few sizable purses came Tommy's way, for he trudged the long, hard road to pugilistic prominence with little remuneration, but in the fading days of his ring glory, he garnered a snug fortune.

Just as did Mike before him, he looked around carefully for the investments that meant security for his posterity and a reasonable return. He found it in apartment houses and sound bonds.

Tommy Marked End.

It was Tommy's first knockdown when Gene Tunney knocked him out in New York in June, 1925, and it was his last, for since that time he has never donned the gloves in the prize ring.

Gibbons's most widely known encounter was with the champion, Jack Dempsey, when he stayed fifteen punishing rounds with him in Montana in 1923, fighting under a burning Fourth of July sun. His "end" of the purse was based on percentage, and there wasn't any.

But the Dempsey fight "for art's sake" helped Gibbons get other more remunerative engagements. For his Memorial Day fight two years ago with Georges Carpentier he collected his best purse—$62,000. Before that a $12,000 purse for meeting Harry Greb had been his best.

Many Visitors At Tunney Camp

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 10 (AP).—Restoration of nervous energy by relaxation, which is Gene Tunney's way of saying that it is good to loaf occasionally, served today to set the challenger for hard work Saturday and Sunday. Weather permitting he expects to box tomorrow and next day. Today he was satisfied to walk and run between nine and ten miles, enjoy a motor ride along scenic mountain roads and beat a golf ball about for a while.

Tunney regretfully declined an invitation to go to Delaware Water Gap to be presented to the state convention of the American Legion. He gratefully acknowledged his appreciation of ringside visits from many of his former buddies in arms here and would have liked to pay a return call but shied from the amount of handshaking involved.

At the moment the challenger's chief source of worry is the informal entertaining he is forced to do. He is a good-natured soul and a suggestion that a man, woman or child has driven 100 or more miles to see him has thus far brought him from his quarters to shake hands.

George Ransberry, volunteer chef at the Tunney camp, went into action and something may be done. Ransberry announced that he was not catch-as-catch-can cook and when his meals were served they were served for that minute and not a quarter or half hour later. While visitors have been telling Tunney that "they knew him when," the soup has been getting cold and Ransberry, weighing 300 pounds and able to enforce his threats if need be, has ruled that the dinner hour must be just that.

Dempsey Settles Down to Work

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 10 (AP).—Jack Dempsey crawls back into his working clothes today—a flashy emerald green pair of fighting trunks with a jersey to match—to start the intensive campaign of his training grind, after loafing through a three days' layoff.

The world heavyweight champion, sunburned and thoroughly rested, intends to set a blistering pace for his sparring mates. He promises to cast off all restraint in the whirl of gloves and to work within the next ten days as he never has worked before. Dempsey, weighing around 187 pounds, desires to bring his weight down to about 181 or 182 by the time he reaches the peak of his training and then maintain that figure until ring time.

While the titleholder has been enjoying himself, taking short motor trips and loafing around his bungalow, his sparring partners have been carefully nursing their bruised and battered bodies for the dreaded punching they know is coming to them. Charley Anderson, the 212 pound Negro from Chicago, mournfully rubs his sore ribs whenever he thinks about it. Big Bill Tate, the veteran Negro shock absorber looks none too happy because he has been saved up for a week.

Tommy Loughran, the Philadelphia light-heavyweight reported in camp yesterday but it is indefinite when he will pull out on the leather. He may start in today, but it is likely he may be held in reserve for the final week. Jimmy Slattery, the Buffalo speedster, is due to work with Dempsey to speed him up and sharpen his batting eye. Martin Burke, the gangling New Orleans light-heavyweight, also will be available to take his turn on the firing line.

A Royal Jawbone

London schoolboys were recently told by Laurence Tanner that in 1783 a pupil of the school visiting Westminster abbey placed his hand in the tomb of King Edward II, drew out the jawbone of that king and carried it home. The jawbone remained in the boy's family until about twenty years ago, when it was restored to the abbey, and by command of King Edward replaced in King Richard's tomb.

The Phoenix

The phoenix was a fabulous bird of ancient Egypt which was supposed to live 500 years, at the end of which time it made a nest of rare Arabian spices, sang a melodious song, set fire to its nest by flapping its wings and was burned to death in the flames. From the ashes a new phoenix arose to live 500 years and repeat the performance.—Exchange.

FAMOUS BATTLES for the HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

By The Associated Press.

Jack Johnson defeated Tommy Burns before the police stopped the bout at Sydney, New South Wales, December 25, 1908. The constabulary invaded the ring in the 14th round. The affair was to have continued to 30 rounds but as far as it went it was decisive enough to have the title go to the big negro boxer.

Burns was badly battered and a cracked lip prevented his smiling when Bill Squires, champion of Australia challenged the winner. Bill, in his challenging speech, omitted any reference to a two-minute fight he had with Burns the previous year.

There was a somewhat heated and extended argument before the show began over certain elastic bandages, covering Burns' elbows. The referee decided that Burns could not hit with his elbows and was for leaving them on. Burns, on his own motion, removed the elbow covering and was rewarded with a big hand from the crowd.

Cash on the counter was the financial order of the day and the gladiators were paid off in the ring. So interested was the populace in the affair that a number of the customers slept in the open, waiting for the day of the fight to dawn.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press.)

The west has invaded the east with two fighting teams to battle for the 1926 National League pennant, and a chance at the world's championship.

St. Louis, leading the league and three full games ahead of Cincinnati near the end of a dramatic season, was matched today in the first of a series with the Boston Braves, buried deep in the cellar. Chicago, in fourth place, but with a fighting chance to gain the flag, faced a struggle with the Philadelphia quakers. Boston's jousting mate for low honors.

Cincinnati, after disposing of a short, two-day series with the desperate Pittsburgh Pirates, who top the Cubs by three small points, joins the Buccaneers in heading for the shores of the Atlantic. The Reds visit Brooklyn and Pittsburgh goes to New York.

Little change took place in the standing yesterday. Cincinnati spent the day resting, far from the cracks of base hits and the roar of frenzied fans that have shaken the first division ball yards as the leaders fought themselves in and out of the lead in the past two weeks of play. With Hornsby and his Cardinal pitching staff still perched in the Yankee grand stand gaining probable world series pointers, Pittsburgh and Chicago resumed the fight for third place but managed only to split two games and drop a lone point each to the leaders.

Joe Bush hooked up in a pitching duel with Percy Jones of the Cubs in the first game and made sure of his 2 to 1 victory by doubling in the second inning to chase Pie Traynor and Cronin across the plate. Pittsburgh fell apart in the second, making five errors in the 10 to 1 debacle.

Philadelphia closed the season with Brooklyn, losing 12 to 6. For the second time in two days a ninth inning rally tied up the game, but yesterday was Brooklyn's turn. The Robins scored nine runs in the final frame. Cy Williams hit two homers, making a life total of 202.

The Giants nosed out the Boston Braves in an eleven inning tilt, 3 to 2, after coming from behind to tie the score in the ninth.

Cleveland virtually gave up the ghost in the long hind chase to catch the New York Yanks. The Indians dropped eight games behind the leaders when Detroit won from them, 3 to 1, while New York was showing the watching Cardinals how they can hit. The Red Sox, hardly a just example for demonstration, were barbecued in round style, 10 to 0. Bob Shawkey turned in a fourth hit game which should interest the Cardinals.

A patched up outfield that included Pitcher Wingard added to the handicap of the St. Louis Browns and resulted in Chicago taking both ends of a double header, 3 to 1 and 5 to 1. Opportune hitting turned the trick for the White Sox.

Tilden Likely To Retain Crown

Philadelphia, Sept. 10 (AP).—Sharing once more with "Little Bill" Johnston the task of making the Davis Cup safe for America, "Big Bill" Tilden, gaunt wizard of the courts, also has utilized this role to dispel any lingering doubts or his return to the form that has kept him at the tennis pinnacle for six straight years.

The crushing manner of the national champion's straight set defeat of the French ace and Wimbledon titleholder, Jean Borotra, was the most significant feature of the opening day's play in the challenge round for the Davis Cup at the Germantown Cricket Club. It overshadowed even the decisive triumph of William M. Johnston over Rene Lacoste in the other match of the day and the fact that France's widely heralded threat, as a result of this twin disaster, all but faded from the 1926 competition for the world's team championship.

Within the space of a few weeks Tilden has disposed of three of his greatest rivals in convincing fashion. His defeat of Borotra at 6-2, 6-2, 6-2, after triumphs over Johnston and Vincent Richards has heightened the prospects that "Big Bill" will retain his crown in the national singles tournament next week at Forest Hills, N. Y.

All Cooks Look Alike

To the hungry man, but what a sad disappointment when the "kitchen queen" quite suddenly and the table looks anything but satisfying to a mortal eye.

When in doubt as to what to do, use The Freeman's "Help Wanted" Cook-Ward Department.

It's toasted

That's Why Luckies Taste So Good

When you light a Lucky Strike, you get more than the usual enjoyment which comes from an extra-fine cigarette.

You get the choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and perfectly blended—and something more.

The extra goodness of Lucky Strikes is due to toasting—a costly extra process.

Lucky Strikes offer you:

1. Finer Flavor. Toasting for 45 minutes develops the hidden flavors of the world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos.

2. Smoothness. Toasting for 45 minutes removes all "bite" and harshness, hence never any throat irritation.

3. Freshness. Then the tobacco is suddenly chilled. This seals the flavor in and insures constant freshness.

If judged only by comparison of tobaccos, Lucky Strikes would be the best on the market. But the extra process is a final touch, making Luckies far superior.

Autoist Fined For Reckless Driving

Joseph Kaphala, who was arrested on Saturday last on complaint of Judge Cass of Woodstock by Deputy Sheriff A. V. The defendant first had Miss Cass arrested after a collision of their cars. She was later discharged and she had Kaphala arrested and his hearing set down for Thursday evening. He paid the fine.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Sept. 10 (P)—The New York city fruit and vegetable markets continue dull today owing to the celebration of the second Jewish holiday. Prices nominal in the absence of important sales.

Trading in all varieties of apples continued very quiet. Hudson Valley in bushel baskets ranged mostly from $1.25 @ $1.50 for the best stock, and poor form $1.35 @ $1.00. Latest carlot shipment reports of the federal department of agriculture show that Washington shipped 183 cars on September 7, Virginia 45 cars, and New York 39. Of the shipments from this state the equivalent of ten carloads arrived by boat from the Hudson Valley sections. A good export demand is reported for Virginia and Maryland apples. As yet no export inquiry has developed for New York State apples.

Although state lettuce was in light receipt, prices were much lower than earlier in the week. The best stock brought mostly $1.75 @ 2.00 per crate of two dozen heads, and poor to ordinary from 50 @ $1.50. California iceberg lettuce ranged from $4.00 @ $6.50 per crate. Reports from the Rochester office of the department of farms and markets indicate that 20 carloads of lettuce were shipped yesterday to New York city, 5 to Philadelphia 2 to Washington and two to Boston and five carloads to other markets. Total shipments of lettuce from various shipping points throughout the United States show that 35,200 carloads have been shipped to date this year as against 32,960 in the same period last year.

The market on cabbage continued inactive with white cabbage selling mostly at $1.00 @ $1.25 per sack and some sales lower.

Culloton Will Pitch Sunday

With Bud Culloton twirling for the Philomena and the game a "benefit" match with the D. and H. Generals there will undoubtedly be a record crowd at the Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon. This will be the former Pittsburgh Pirates first appearance with the Colonials this season and will be the fans first opportunity to watch Bud work in the Colonial uniform in two years.

This "benefit" contest was scheduled to have been played last week but rain caused the cancelling of the contest. The D. and H. Generals are one of the Colonials' most difficult rivals and a better team could not have been selected for this contest.

All tickets which were sold for the scheduled game last week are good for Sunday's contest.

Yellow Jackets Practice Tonight

Kingston "Yellow Jackets" will work hard for the next week at the Athletic Field for the first gridiron match of the season in but nine days away. This first game is with Newburgh and will be played in the Hill City on Sunday, September 19.

Coach Preston and his squad of professional football toters will have two stern workouts this week, one tonight at 6:30 and another Sunday morning at 8. Although local pigskin aspirants are very enthusiastic over this new team, Coach Preston is despondent of having a still greater number of candidates. None of the berths on the eleven have been assigned as yet and there is a chance for anyone who knows the game.

Uniforms have been ordered and are expected any day. There will be tugs for fifteen men but Coach Preston will not give them out until shortly before the first game in order to give each candidate a chance to show his best.

Tickets were put on sale Thursday evening and may now be secured from any member of the squad. These tickets will entitle the holders to the five home games. All home matches will be played on the Fair Grounds.

Twenty minutes later his wife found him hanging from a rafter. Filicoff's act, according to the authorities, was caused by despondency because of ill health.

VALUE OF COVER CROP IN ORCHARD

(By E. L. PROBSTING, University of California.)

Cover crops, provided adequate moisture is present for both the trees and the crop, are of considerable benefit to the orchard. The more important of these beneficial effects may be listed as follows:

1. If the crop is leguminous it adds nitrogen to the soil.
2. It provides a favorable medium for growth of soil organisms.
3. It improves the physical condition of the soil.

It is well known that certain bacteria grow in nodules formed on the roots of legumes. These bacteria have the power of "fixing" atmospheric nitrogen, that is, changing it from a form practically useless to the plant to one which is readily absorbed. The addition of this element is an important part of maintaining permanent agricultural.

It is not so generally known that there are many kinds of microscopic organisms that occur in the soil. These are of many sorts, both animals and plants being among them. One of the important kinds is the ammonifying bacteria. These bacteria take the complex forms of nitrogen compounds, such as proteins, and digest them with the production of ammonia. A small amount of ammonia is used directly by the plant. A much larger amount is transformed to nitrites by another group of bacteria, and still another group carries the process further to the nitrate state. This is probably the form in which most nitrogen used by the plant is absorbed.

Besides these organisms working in the soil on the forms of nitrogen there are many acting on other compounds, such as those of sulphur, iron, phosphorus, etc. They also help to put the elements into a form suitable for absorption by the plants. In order that these beneficial processes may be carried on in the soil it is necessary that a proper environment be supplied. This is very greatly aided by the use of cover crops.

It has been found that the ability of the soil to maintain a desirable texture is greatly influenced by the amount of certain materials in it. An important group of these materials is supplied to the soil by the decomposition of cover crops. They tend to prevent puddling of the soil, especially heavy soils, where this is apt to be serious. They also increase the water-holding capacity of the soil, which is especially important in a region of prolonged dry weather.

While these items do not tell all of the story they serve to show the value of a cover crop to the orchard.

Cedar Rust Trouble Is Being Watched Closely

Fruit-growers are watching West Virginia to see what progress she makes in her battle against red cedar, which causes millions of dollars in losses to orchard owners, due to the red-cedar spores being carried to nearby apple orchards. West Virginia has a cedar-rust law which provides that red cedars, within three miles of any commercial orchard, may be cut down, and approximately 100,000 acres have been cleared of cedars since January.

But will the law stand the test of the courts? Some of the farmers in Berkeley county have started a test case by securing an injunction against the cutting of cedars on their farms. This case will be heard in the near future in the Circuit court there and is virtually certain to be carried to the state Supreme court.

The large orchard interests of the Western Panhandle have taken the lead in helping the state department of agriculture to enforce the law. The cost of destroying the trees is paid out of the county treasury and this money is repaid the county by a special levy upon all orchards in that particular county. The levy must not exceed $1 an acre on orchards planted ten years or more, or 50 cents an acre on orchards planted more than two years and less than ten years.

Summer Sprays

The third summer orchard spray should be followed in about two weeks with another application. If apple blotch is not present, lime-sulphur solution and arsenate of lead may be used. Where the grower anticipates injury from apple blotch or bitter rot, Bordeaux and arsenate of lead should be applied. Practically all orchards should receive at least four summer sprays. In most cases they will be greatly benefited by applying from five to seven sprays.

American Apples in Paris

An interesting development of the fruit trade is the offering of American apples on the fruit stands of Paris at the end of March, in good sound condition and at a reasonable price. The importers believe that Paris will take a surplus of American apples at particularly favorable for the balance of the season, and that next year the trade will start earlier. Americans and Americans should not with the constant sale with the Whimsy child, and Sanyas last.

Hylan Also Raps The Republicans

Says G. O. P. State Leaders Allow Al Smith to Pick His Opponents and That Wall Street Controls Al Smith to Pick His Opponent

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 10 (AP).—The charge that Republican state leaders are preparing to let Governor Smith name the Republican candidate for governor, is made by John F. Hylan, in a second statement from the former mayor published by the Syracuse Herald today.

Mr. Hylan says: "You ask me to make a definite announcement if I will enter the fight as an independent candidate for governor. I am not yet prepared to say what I will do. In the primary contest last year for the mayoralty, there was every evidence of an understanding between Al Smith, the Tammany dictator, and the Republican organization in the city for the purpose of securing control of the city government by Wall Street traction and food profiteers and their friends, who according to common gossip, furnished and expended $4,000,000 for campaign use."

"The financial interests of Wall Street seem to be in control of both Smith and the Republican organization and will allow Smith to write his own ticket, in other words, name his opponent on the Republican ticket for governor."

ELEANOR MUST PLACE SECOND TO WIN CUP.

Toledo, O., Sept. 10 (AP).—The Ellyria of Cleveland, Fantom of Chicago and Eleanor of Toronto will race over an 18 mile triangular course today in the third and possibly the deciding event of the international series for the Richardson trophy for class R. sloops. The Canadian entry needs only to finish second today to annex the cup, one of the most historic trophies in fresh water racing circles.

The Ellyria won the second race of the series by superior windward work in a high wind and heavy sea yesterday. The Eleanor was second and Fantom third. The Eleanor won the first leg for the trophy Wednesday.

The proved durability of this varnish stain protects your furniture

SOME varnish stains will withstand the acids and alkalis, the bumps and scratches of every-day use, and come out. Here is a simple test for durability:

Apply varnish stain to a wood panel. Allow the stain to dry. Bend or cross it over a straight edge. Then straighten it out, and examine its surface.

Under such a test an inefficient varnish stain will crack badly where it was crossed, leaving a broken film that will chip off and expose the bare surface.

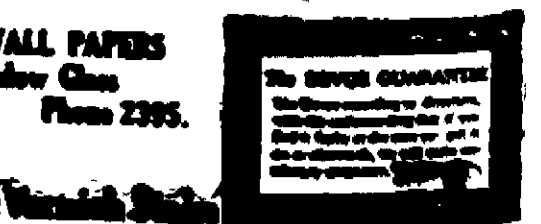

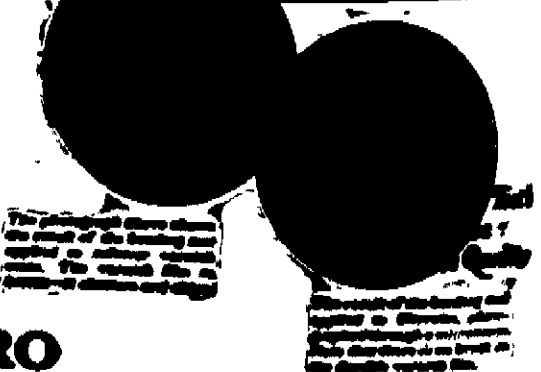

On the other hand, a really efficient and durable varnish stain, such as Devco Mirokro, will retain an unbroken film, thereby fully protecting the surface.

In a comparison test before paint experts, Devco Mirokro was uniformly chosen as the line of varnish stains that represented most accurately the accepted hardwood finish.

No wonder Devco Mirokro can be guaranteed to under conditions when applied according to directions.

1773 Years of Experience

For the outside of your house, for the walls inside, for the woodwork, the floors, the furniture, there is a particular Devco stain, varnish, or enamel, backed by Devco's 1773 years of experience. We recommend Devco products, being your paint and varnish protection to us, and get dependable advice.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

The funeral of Thomas Reid, who died in Peekskill, was held on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 in Catskill. Reid was a chef and was well known in this city.

Burton D. Hulbert, a well known and highly respected resident of the Hill, died at his home there today morning, September 7. Mr. Hulbert was born at Medusa, Greene county, June 5, 1860, and was an only child of David C. and Marietta Hulbert. His father and he conducted three stores at different times in Catskill and for many years was one of the substantial business men of the town. Four of his sons, Mr. Hulbert's mother, three well-known ministers. Three of his daughters and one was a member of the Christian church. Mr. Hulbert married Ada Helen Hulbert in Jersey City, N. J., in 1884. At the time of his marriage Mr. Hulbert was employed as a natural iron worker on large bridges under construction in and around New York city. Mr. and Mrs. Hulbert came from New York City in 1891 and opened a small grocery store on Elm street. A few years afterwards he bought a new building located at the corner of Main and Elm streets, and resided and enlarged the entire store and during the following twenty-eight years the Zephyr was most widely known and popular grocery and confectionery store in the part of the Catskill Mountain. Mr. Hulbert had a large number of friends in Ulster, Greene, Sullivan and Otsego counties and in New York city. For many years and his health failed he was one of the most successful and progressive business men in Ulster county, and by strict integrity and good business management he acquired considerable wealth. He was always ready and willing to aid in any worthy cause and the lives of many were saved and stimulated to better ways of usefulness because of his efforts there and they were saddened when he died. He is survived only by his wife and some living in distant parts of the country. Mr. Hulbert was 66 years old on June 5. Funeral services were held and largely attended at the Methodist Church on Thursday afternoon, September 9, at 2 o'clock. The obsequies were conducted by the Rev. N. J. Hess, pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. F. Wells of Roxbury, a former pastor. Interment was made in the Hill Cemetery.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 10 (AP).—Backing and filling movements continued to characterize today's stock market, with standard industrials and rails inclined to heaviness after midday on announcement of a drop of more than 60,000 tons in the unfilled orders of the U. S. Steel Corporation last month. Pools succeeded in elevating nearly a score of issues to new high levels for the year during the morning, but with one or two exceptions they had difficulty in attracting a public following.

The market opened strong on overnight buying influenced by the retention of the 4 per cent rediscount rate by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, many of the early gains running from 2 to 5 points. Heavy liquidation of Mack Trucks, which broke nearly 5 points, brought about sympathetic reactions in low priced stocks which gradually spread to other sections of the list.

Despite the announcement of an increase in corn grades of crude by the Humble Oil Company, petroleum shares were pressed for sale, one block of 5,500 shares of Texas Company changing hands at 65. Colorado Fuel was lifted to a new high, but the other steels were backward. The market closed with a new record high.

Warm Welcome For Mrs. Corson

New York City Greets First Mother to Swim English Channel—Thought of Her Children Was in Her Mind as She Made Second Attempt.

New York, Sept. 10 (AP).—A mother of two little children, almost unknown to the world at large a few weeks ago, returned to the city of her adoption today and received a conqueror's welcome from New York's millions.

She was Mrs. Clemington Corson, born in Denmark as Mille Gade, who will go down in history as the first mother to swim the treacherous waters of the English Channel.

New York, which roared itself hoarse a fortnight ago to greet Trudie Ederle, the first woman to swim the channel, showed its impartiality by doing the same thing again today.

Banda blared harbor craft whistles screamed an ear-splitting welcome, delegations of admirers marched, a "blizzard" of ticker tape and confetti dropped on her from the sky scrapers in the canyons of lower Broadway, and thousands applauded vociferously.

At city hall, Mayor Walker gave her a scroll commemorating her feat.

She frankly admitted that she made the second attempt to swim the channel always with her children in mind, because she knew that if she made the swim their lives would be filled with comfort and not the hardships which she had faced most of her life.

She was delighted when told that more than 2,000 officers had been relieved for her services, and that contracts amounting to $250,000 were in sight.

ARREST REUSAN IN ASSASSINATION PLOT

Geneva, Sept. 10 (AP).—A Russian was arrested today charged with plotting to assassinate Dr. Giuseppe Motta, former president of Switzerland. It is alleged that he desired to revenge the murder of J. Vorovsky, Russian representative during the Lausanne conference in 1923, by Maurice A. Conrad, a Swiss, who was acquitted.

The Russian was denounced to the police by Swiss journalists. Apparently he made no actual attempt against the life of Dr. Motta who was present at the league assembly meeting today at the head of the Swiss delegation.

The prisoner will be sent to Zurich where he is wanted on another charge.

Edwin Hare of Glee

Merton Paid King $50,000

New York, Sept. 10 (AP).—Richard Merton, German metal magnate, testified today that he suggested paying the late John T. King "something" for his aid in obtaining the return of alleged German owners of $7,000,000 realized from the sale of American Metals Company stock during the war.

Merton is the government's star witness in the trial of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, and Thomas W. Miller, former attorney, property custodian for conspiracy to defraud the United States in the transfer of the $7,000,000. John T. King, who died soon after the first indictment in the case, was returned as alleged by the government to have "pulled the strings" in the deal.

Merton said that under the terms of an agreement he finally reached with King, in July, 1921, he agreed to pay the latter five per cent of the amount of assets recovered provided the transaction was completed before August 15, 1921. If the transaction was not completed before September 1, Merton said he was to pay King 2 1/2 per cent of the amount recovered. In addition, he testified he agreed to pay King $50,000 in cash and shortly thereafter gave King a check for that amount drawn upon the Chase National Bank.

Merton said he had not seen the cancelled check but he knew that it had been cashed.

Merton said he obtained the services of King because he agreed to pay him less than the cost of hiring a lawyer. King was once Republican national committeeman from Connecticut and one of the most influential men in the Republican party.

Plan Changes In Senate Chamber

Modern Alterations to Be Made in Historic Chamber in National Capitol, Occupied Continuously for Seventy Years.

Washington, Sept. 10 (AP).—The historic Senate chamber, occupied continuously since 1859, will give way to modern alterations to provide outside air and light under a plan being worked out by Republican and Democratic leaders.

Informal agreement has been reached to prosecute the plan at the next session at the urgent request of health crusaders, who claim the mechanical ventilation does not provide proper living conditions in the present inside quarters because of the absence of sunlight and direct air currents.

The plan conforms with the original model of Thomas U. Walter, the architect who designed the Senate and House wings of the capitol. The cost is estimated at $450,000, exclusive of a ventilating system, which consulting architects claim still would be necessary.

Move Chamber.
This would mark the third change in the Senate assembly room since the capitol building was constructed. The Senate at first occupied the small chamber now used by the Supreme Court.

Under the plan, the Senate chamber would be moved forward to the north wall of the Senate wing, and the architects report that no material structural changes would be needed to carry out the design. The work would be confined to the tearing out of partitions and the relocation of galleries and offices.

The same dimensions of the chamber, 113 feet by 80 feet, would be retained but a half circle or amphitheatrical form, with a coiled ceiling, would be substituted for the present oblong shape to improve acoustics and vision.

Change Offices.

The new assembly room would occupy the space now devoted to the President's and Vice-President's offices and the marble room. Quarters for the chief executive and the vice-president would be located side by side on the east side of the Senate with entrances through a large anteroom. The marble room, now used as a lounging and conference retreat for senators, would be replaced by a wide marble promenade around the entire half circle in the rear of the Senate, with connections to the cloak rooms.

Public corridors would be built behind the Senate chamber to provide a direct line between the two staircases and additional offices would be constructed between the corridors and the south side of the building.

Gallery space would be confined to the half circle, with the north side left free. The press gallery, now occupying all of the north side, would be moved over to the northeast corner where three rooms would be fitted up. New committee rooms would be constructed also on the gallery floor between the corridors and the south wall.

Presbyterian Ladies to Meet.

The ladies conducting the fancy booth at the Roundout Presbyterian Church will serve a supper on Wednesday, September 15, from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. The menu is as follows: Chicken patties, mashed potatoes, brown bread, raisin bread, tomato and lettuce salad with Russian dressing, iced tea, hot coffee and peach shortcake with whipped cream.

Question—When a frame building burns down, what is left? Answer—The chimney alone, because it is built of brick. Chimneys are built of brick because they are fireproof. Why not construct the whole building of brick, that is Real Fire Prevention. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. When you build, use brick exclusively. There may be a slight increase in first cost, but always a large saving in maintenance. Building brick and sand. TERRY BROTHERS CO. Tel. 1674.

LAST NIGHT on THE RADIO

Stille noises and blanketing were not kind to Lady Astor and her witty and common sense speech from WJZ and WGY was a trifle difficult to understand but well worth the effort.

There was practically no DX reception until 11 o'clock, at which time the blanket was suddenly lifted from Chicago and points west. The WOC Plowboy Quartet sang the "Way Down Yonder in the Cornfield" plantation song with all the trimmings of banjo imitation, etc., and Cincinnati, Detroit and Cleveland stations came through clearly and with good volume.

One of the incidents of the evening was the WJZ announcer laboring under the delusion that the WGY hook-up was working and persistently addressing "the audience of WGY at Schenectady" while that station was broadcasting a program of its own which was far more enjoyable than that of WJZ.

One of the freaks of the evening was clear reception from WHAS, a rather difficult station to tune in, at a time when all other western stations were dead. Another freak was that at various times a directional loop had to be set in what is normally the wrong direction in order to give best results.

Mrs. Julian Heath described a wonderful mixture of peaches, "ang-gah" and "wattah" served on a "plattah" and especially admirable by reason of the "colah" the peaches give to the mess of the "plattah." What brand of digestive tablets does Mrs. Heath recommend?

The A. & P. Gypsies will return to the air on Monday evening, September 13, between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock. Eastern Daylight Time. This concert, as well as those on following Monday evenings, will be broadcast through Station WEAF and ten other stations.

LIVELY TIMES AT DREAMLAND FARM

Dreamland Farm, the popular resort at Kyrle, N. Y., broke its and the valley's record by entertaining 134 guests over the Labor Day holiday. Although the policy of "beautiful dreamland is to accept no more reservations than can find rooms upon the farm it was necessary because of the crowded condition all through the summer to accept the hospitality of neighbors for this occasion.

The rainy days did not disturb the guests of Dreamland who found the dance hall and parlors of sufficient size to provide space for all and every room was filled with those enjoying dancing and other forms of amusement.

On Labor Day a minstrel show of exceptional merit was given by the guests among whom are many artists, professional and semi-professional. The interactor and the end men kept the audience in throes of laughter by merry quips on the guests and Mr. Kristeller was not spared in being placed in a humorous light to his very evident enjoyment. Jack O'Brien, a professional dancer; Frank Annunziata, a popular tenor; and Frank "Forshaw," a baritone of great merit, received well deserved applause. The exhibition of Charleston dancing by Miss Doris Rohmann was conceded to far surpass many seen on Broadway. Harry S. Taylor broke his silence of over a year and played the cornet with his usual skill and finesse. An audience of over 200 joined in the applause.

The fall season finds over 50 guests still at Dreamland Farm and the summer season gives promise of an extension into the fall.

Deep Religious Feeling
